

Heaven's Hollow Farm is located on the border of Madison and Orange counties just 8 miles from The Market at Grelen and the Town of Orange. Heaven's Hollow is owned and operated by Jacob and Jennifer Gilley and has been a family cattle operation for nearly 70 years. In addition to their children, they raise Angus beef, pork, and eggs that provide an exceptional eating experience.

They employ the use of rotational grazing as well as the use of perennial and annual forages to ensure the cattle have continuous access to fresh pasture. In an effort to increase sustainable practices, the cattle and hogs are supplemented with grains from local farms and craft breweries, which in turn add incredible flavor and tenderness to their "Craft Beef and Pork." They strive to raise the livestock with best management practices with a focus on animal welfare and well being to guarantee a premium product raised with integrity. Please feel free to contact them to learn more about their farm, methods in which they use to raise their livestock, and how you can enjoy a true farm to table experience.
